

FBQ1: To understand _____ we must appreciate certain features that make up their personalities.

Answer: Children

FBQ2: _____ is the ability to create something new or have a special achievement.

Answer: Genius

FBQ3: Our fundamental attitude to children is important so as to avoid _____.

Answer: Dangerous mistakes

FBQ4: The young child is still developing, his feeling are strong but is still _____.

Answer: Immature

FBQ5: If the interest of the adult taking care of children is to make the children comfort, happy and live a full healthy life in future, then the adult need to understand the _____ stages of the child.

Answer: Developmental

FBQ6: _____ is the type of discipline where the teacher believes that children should be allowed to do what they like.

Answer: Permissive discipline

FBQ7: Developing something new and unique with specific characteristics is called _____.

Answer: Creativity

FBQ8: Early Childhood Education typically includes the study of nursery schools, kindergarten and primary levels of _____.

Answer: Education

FBQ9: The type of speech or communication without talking but with the aid of body signs or diagrammatic signs is called _____.

Answer: Non-verbal speech

FBQ10: The term _____ is used to describe a child whose weight is 20% more than the corresponding weight of his/her height.

Answer: Obesity

FBQ11: The sensori-motor stage of Piaget's intellectual development is within the age range of.....

Answer: 0-2 years

FBQ12: Child Development has helped to provide useful information on the general growth and _____ of children.

Answer: development

FBQ13: The instrument with which to write down everything a child does in a particular setting during a given period is called _____

Answer: Anecdotal record

FBQ14: Children learning depend on their _____ and it is important to be able to provide what they need at each stage.Â

Answer: Maturation

FBQ15: Baby stage is play development is also described as _____

Answer: Exploratory stage

FBQ16: To a great extent the _____ of child Development has helped to provide appropriate attitude, skills and values to children.

Answer: Knowledge

FBQ17: To a great extent the knowledge of child Development has helped to provide appropriate attitude, skills and values to _____...

Answer: Children

FBQ18: _____ list was first used in France to identify how much children can gain from learning instruction

Answer: Binet Intelligence

FBQ19: Piaget work on _____ development and he called it mental operations.

Answer: Stages of intelligence

FBQ20: It is necessary that the study of child development goes along with the study of subject matter areas like _____.

Answer: Mathematics

FBQ21: The act of inflicting physical pain on a child for an offence he or she committed is called _____

Answer: Corporal punishment

FBQ22: The main task of a _____.. it to ensure that high standard teaching and learning takes place in the class, and even outside the classroom,

Answer: Teacher

FBQ23: The understanding of child development is important to the future academic _____ of the child.

Answer: Growth

FBQ24: The uniqueness and the distinctive characteristics of a child make up his or her _____..

Answer: Personality

FBQ25: The mental power of a child which shows signs of smartness, wisdom, and quick understanding of concepts is called _____.

Answer: Intelligence

FBQ26: The development of every individual depends largely on heredity and _____.
Answer: Environment

FBQ27: Some great _____ of the past believe that the traits children show in their early years of their life have great implications for their future development.
Answer: Thinkers

FBQ28: The desire to fulfil one's personality is called _____.
Answer: Self-actualization

FBQ29: Making a child to suffer for breaking a school rule is called _____.
Answer: Punishment

FBQ30: Jean Piaget's formal operation stage of intellectual development covers.....
Answer: Pre-adolescence

FBQ31: As adults, we all know that we too have passed through _____.
Answer: Childhood

FBQ32: _____ has to do with how a person feels about himself.
Answer: Self-esteem

FBQ33: _____ is the inner feelings of a child in form of attitude, joy, fear, and interest.
Answer: Emotion

FBQ34: The study of human behaviour as a social science is called _____.
Answer: Psychology

FBQ35: A teacher needs to study the _____ of a child so as to be able to predict the kind of person, the child will develop to as adult.
Answer: development

Multiple Choice Questions (MCQs):

MCQ1: It is _____ because, the person studying the children is controlling some things.
Answer: experiment

MCQ2: The _____, is that the person study the children does not control any behavior
Answer: Observation

MCQ3: Some universities have been teaching _____ Development since the 1900s.
Answer: Children

MCQ4: We are able to appreciate variations in the behaviour of individuals as we grow from _____ to adult
Answer: Child

MCQ5: The understanding of child development is important to the future growth of the child.

Answer: Academic

MCQ6: Some great of the past believe that the traits children show in their early years of their life have impact in their adulthood

Answer: thinkers

MCQ7: The of CD enables one to recognize what the children need at the different stages of their life.

Answer: knowledge

MCQ8: As, we all know that we too have passed through childhood.

Answer: Adults

MCQ9: We are also able to recognize certain which we have been learning from childhood.

Answer: Characteristics

MCQ10: A needs to study the development of a child so as to be able to predict the kind of person,

Answer: Teacher

MCQ11: This is a scientific method of studying children.

Answer: Case study

MCQ12: It is also possible to the time or period that a child will be able to do certain things

Answer: predict

MCQ13: It is also possible to predict the kind of the child can do well in when he becomes an adult.

Answer: Occupation

MCQ14: We are able to appreciate in the behavior of individuals as we grow from child to adult.

Answer: Variations

MCQ15: The way an individual's genotype is expressed in observed and measurable characteristics

Answer: Phenotype

MCQ16: _____ is communication without speaking out

Answer: Non-verbal

MCQ17: For reading and writing readiness, a child should be given training on the following except..

Answer: Driving skills

MCQ18: Child Development has helped to provide useful information on the general growth and development of children.

Answer: information

MCQ19: This method of studying children is however expensive.

Answer: expensive

MCQ20: The Experiment is better than longitudinal because it is easy to complete the study within a short time

Answer: Experiment

MCQ21: We can use the knowledge to improve upon the development of children put in our care

Answer: knowledge

MCQ22: Children do not grow in the same rate, and the growth of a child does not occur in all direction in the same rate.

Answer: Children

MCQ23: Cephalo-caudal growth pattern of head growing before the other parts of the body.

Answer: Cephalo-caudal

MCQ24: Proximodistal means that the centre part of the body grows more before parts like leg, arm

Answer: Proximodistal

MCQ25: The growth of the child follows a particular pattern as the child grows

Answer: weight

MCQ26: Circumference is the round length of round object.

Answer: Circumference

MCQ27: A child whose skeleton does not grow proper is called Dwarfism

Answer: Tall stature

MCQ28: Food intake should be advised to be moderate.

Answer: moderate

MCQ29: Obesity may however be due to hereditary factors.

Answer: Obesity

MCQ30: A child is said to be Obese when the weight of the child is 20% more than the corresponding weight for his height.

Answer: Obese

MCQ31: Obesity may be caused by over eating, over protection and lack of activities.

Answer: Obesity

MCQ32: This growthâ€ˆâ€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™. is to be used to assess whether or not a child is growing normally.

Answer: standard

MCQ33: It is believed that â€ˆâ€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™.. is always a follow up to growth in young children.

Answer: Development

MCQ34: It is important to watch how â€ˆâ€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™.. behave and to act on

Answer: children

MCQ35: It isâ€ˆâ€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™â€™.. because, the person studying the children is controlling some things,

Answer: experiment