

All of the options

[PHS813] The scientific process of collecting, collating, analyzing, presenting, interpreting and disseminating health and health-related data is called Biostatistics

[PHS813] Set of values of one or more variables recorded on one or more observational unit is called
Data

[PHS813] The two types of statistics are:
Descriptive and inferential statistics

[PHS813] Biostatistics is applied in
All of the options

[PHS813] The following are routine sources of data
All of the options

[PHS813] Vital statistics includes the following
All of the options

[PHS813] All qualitative variables are measured on -----scale
Nominal

[PHS813] The ages of 5 children for immunization are: 6, 5, 8, 7 and 4 (in years). Find the variance
2

[PHS813] The difference between the largest and smallest scores of ungrouped data is the--- Range

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net