

1. Pyrenomycetes is a class of fungi found in the division called _____ ascomycotina

2. The Ph of wine is about

3

3. How many classes of fungi are in the Sub-division of Deutromycotina

3

4. Which of these fungi is an opportunistic which ordinarily cause disease only in a compromised host?

Candida

5. Melanconiales is an order in the class of Coelomycetes in the sub-division of

Deutromycotina

6. Classification of fungi on the basis of hyphae was a convenient method of classification in the 1940s

7. The order Ascomycetales is in the class _____

Hemiascomycetes

8. Before 1925, which group of fungi are called water moulds?

Oomycetes

9. Pleurotus is an example of the order _____

Agaricales

10. The sub-Division of fungi that comprises slime moulds is

Myxomycotina