

Barley is dampened, allowed germinate, and is then dried and stored for subsequent [BIO311] Which of these best describe Allergic aspergillosis?

Breathlessness, fever and malaise appear some hours after exposure, and repeated

[BIO311] When the body of the gametangial of two gametes fuse to form a zygote it is referred to as

Somatogamy

[BIO311] What is a fruiting body?

Subterranean mycelium that grows outward to differentiate in pileus which houses

[BIO311] What is Zygomycosis?

A relatively rare, opportunistic infection caused by saprophytic moulds of the species of Rhizopus, Mucor and Absidia.

[BIO311] Which of these is a nutritive use of fungi

Use of fungi as a single cell protein as a supplement for animal feed

[BIO311] Which of these separates the sporogenous section from the rest of the thallus?

Septum

[BIO311] The mycelium in higher fungi becomes differentiated into

Fruiting bodies

[BIO311] The antibiotic isolated from Streptomyces griseus is

Streptomycin

[BIO311] What are the functions of the holocarpic somatic structures of primitive Chytrids?

For vegetative and reproductive function