

9/10

The two chromatids of chromosome separate from each other during Anaphase of mitosis and anaphase II of meiosis

Crossing over in diploid organism is responsible for Recombination of linked alleles

The mass of acromatic material which surrounds the chromonemata is called Matrix

Which of the following is the normal form of chromosome?
Monocentric

The experiments on double fertilization on sea urchin eggs in which the eggs were found to be fertilized by two sparmatozoa were performed by Theodore Boveri

The shortest chromosomes are less than _____.
1.0nm

Nucleolar organizer chromosomes are otherwise known as _____.
Statellite

The material of which chromosomes are composed up of is called Chromatin (same answer presented 2wice)

A chromosome whose centromere is located at its end is known as Telecentric

A chromosome that have secondary constriction in addition to the primary constriction, is known as
Satellite chromosomes

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net