

1. `<?>` is use when you don't know how many repetitions you want the program to run

Do..Loop

2. XML stands for

Extensible Mark-up Language

3. `&` are operators that accept only two inputs binary operators

4. `<?>` in an XSLT template is output literally whitespace

5. `<?>` is used to implement the page layout and design

XSL-FO

6. `<?>` is a shorthand property for setting the individual background

background

7. `<?>` specify the indentation of the first line of the paragraph text-indent

8. `<?>` are used for data entry that involves two possible values checkbox

9. `<?>` specifies the XML version of the resulting XML document version attribute

10. Interconnection of computers on a network is called

Internet

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net