

False

[CRS817] The servant songs of Isaiah celebrated the anticipation of the coming of the _____ of God who would proclaim the message that introduces the new age.
Servant

[CRS817] The oral traditions used by the authors of the Gospel did retain _____ of the spoken words of Jesus
some of the features

[CRS817] The gospel means primarily the announcement of the in breaking of the new age of God's rule.
True

[CRS817] One of the factors that brought oral tradition to relative stability was _____ writing

[CRS817] Gospel was used in the Jewish scriptures to refer to the following but one: _____
crowning of a king

[CRS817] Gospel means was used in the Jewish scriptures to refer to _____ (1 Sam. 31:8-10).
victory in battle

[CRS817] The evangelists _____ introduce some changes in the Gospels so that the traditions in the Gospel narratives would explicitly support some of their theological ideas did

[CRS817] The early Christian community did not materially change the content of that announcement when, on the conviction of its Easter faith, Christians proclaimed Jesus as the mediator sent by God to establish that new age. _____
True

[CRS817] One of the implications of the relative stability of oral tradition is that it was nearly no longer susceptible to changes as _____ materials.
verbal

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net