

2

[CSS381] (2002) defined violence as any cause or justified force that is exerted physically or otherwise by a group or person on another.

Heat de Vices

[CSS381] The World Health Organization (WHO) Definition of violence emphasizes both physical and psychological dimensions.
2002

[CSS381] We speak of violence in different forms in society.

Yes

[CSS381] Violent crime and deviance is often analysed within the field of

Criminology

[CSS381] Interpersonal violence addresses issues of gender, inequality, religion, ethnicity, sexuality and others.

Agree

[CSS381] Violence as a continuum vary from the extreme to everyday occurrence

True

[CSS381] The field of violence encompasses war, terrorism, domestic violence, ethnic cleansing, violent crime etc.

True

[CSS381] Violence is often seen as an instrument of other forms of power.

No

[CSS381] Inter-personal violence and inter-state war constitutes the core forms of violence

True

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net