

production of an educated person?
human and material

[EDA832] Education contributes to national development in the following ways, Except creation of training centres

[EDA832] The national objectives, as specified in the National Policy on Education are basically ____ economic objectives

[EDA832] Institutional Capital costs are associated with the following durable educational inputs Except Fees

[EDA832] One of the measures that exist for enhancing the contributions of education to national objectives is rating education high in national development plans [EDA832] Indirect cost in education is sometimes referred to as opportunity cost

[EDA832] The following are the differences between human and physical capitals, Except that human capital can be sold

[EDA832] Cost in education can be conceptualized from two perspectives namely direct and indirect

[EDA832] Which of these is one of the programmes launched by the government to promote mass literacy?
all of the above

[EDA832] Equation for cost in Education is equal to expenditure + opportunity