

hinged on local participation in decision making

[EHS417] A type of health planning originated by the military and specially designed for communities is called participatory community participation

[EHS417] The following questions may be necessary during monitoring process except Is time enough to complete project?

[EHS417] In strategic health planning, which of these is the most crucial?
provision of resource materials

[EHS417] Which of these is not correct about monitoring?
Developing an implementation plan with stakeholders

[EHS417] The first step in community health assessment needs is definition of geographical scope

[EHS417] A community health participation in which the community are not involved in any contribution e.g., cash, labour etc., can be termed Passive

[EHS417] Which of these does not fall within the categories of Community Environmental Health Needs Assessments?
Addressing Community health challenges prior evidences [EHS417] Which of these is not a direct benefit derived from health needs assessment?

Enhances job satisfaction

[EHS417] The success of health planning is best determined by monitoring and evaluation