

though closely related, are not exactly the same [ENG414] It is important to note that a speech could be -----.

both written and spoken

[ENG414] One major characteristic that distinguishes humans from other creatures is --- language

[ENG414] The major difference between the spoken language and the written one is that -----. while the oral/spoken form is transient, the written form is permanent [ENG414] While every normal human being talks, -----. not every normal human being make speech always

[ENG414] The interpersonal/transactional function of language relates to how language is used to -----.
interact with others in the society [ENG414] ----- defines language as an arbitrary and conventional system of communication using vocal symbols (Babajide, 1996:1)

[ENG414] In Smith's (1969:11-10) view, language learning and behaviour perform three major functions, namely: -----, ----- and -----.
self-discovery, meaning giving and communication

[ENG414] According to Halliday, the expression of content

[ENG414] A good speech requires a good -----. speechwriter