

----- refers to information provided on the products to guide consumer in making wise decision that will meet his/her needs
Product labelling

----- are facilities offered to us by various agencies, and organizations with or without payment.
Services

Individuals who use natural products, services, and grace to meet their needs and enhance their overall well-being is----- consumer

Health information, actions, procedures, or deliveries that help meet consumer needs and desires are identified as----- Health services

Some brand names are very popular because of the these except----- Brian names

The group includes healthy people, sick people, young people, middle-aged people, elderly people, rich people, and poor people are referred to as----- health consumer

a field of study educating consumers about what, where, when, how, how much to buy and use what they buy is ----- Consumer education

A written and unwritten principle and values that govern decisions and actions of a business organization refers to ----- Business ethics

The roles and responsibilities of manufacturers on labelling are ----- except incriminating

The first thing a consumer should do to promote ethical and accurate product labelling is to develop the habit of ----- labels critically when making purchases
reading product