
geology

[INR212] The title attached to Ambassadors is ____ Excellency

[INR212] The work of a diplomat may be broken down into all the following except ____ campaigning

[INR212] The modern law on ____ privileges and immunities is the Vienna Convention in diplomatic relation 1961.
diplomatic

[INR212] A strong objection by a government to an action by another government is called ____ Diplomatic Breach

[INR212] A ____ is an agreement creating binding obligations between subjects of international law.
convention

[INR212] There are two methods of termination of a diplomatic mission, namely ____ recall and dismissal

[INR212] It was when the treaty of ____ of 1648 established a new order of relationship in Europe that classical diplomacy in Europe began.
Westphalia

[INR212] The ____ justifies the provision of privileges and immunities on the ground that they are necessary to enable the diplomatic mission to perform its function.
Functional Necessity Theory

[INR212] ____ is the management of relations between sovereign states and other international actors.
Diplomacy