

The interaction amongst the immigrants with the local populace naturally brings about numerous types of social change, this change is known as?
Social adjustment

The number of migrants estimated by the IOM (International Organization for Migration) to have moved by sea into Europe for the first nine months of 2015 are?
More than 464,000 migrants

Which of the following statements reflect the connections between environment and international migration according to Laczko and Collett, 2005 on the case of Tsunami?
Diaspora of migrants from the areas hit by the Tsunami quickly mobilized to send money and supplies back and lobbied destination governments to provide support.

Which of the following has been defined under the 1951 Refugee Convention on the Status of Refugees as a person fleeing persecution or conflict, and therefore seeking international protection?
An asylum seeker

The surge in the illegal border-crossing detections in the European Union started in?
2011

The EU leadership increased the budget three-fold for a smaller border-control operation known as?
Fronta's Triton border patrol program

Feminization of migration is one of the current features in?
Population movements

The central Mediterranean passageway linking Libya to Italy was regarded as the most trafficked route in the year 2014 for?
Europe-bound migrants

Immigration controls can lead to?
Human trafficking

The primary motivation for a person leaving his home country for economic gain is called?
An economic migrant