

advance the interest of their state
Niccolo Machiavelli

[INR386] After the First World War, international relations shifted from _____ to international law and organizations diplomatic history

[INR386] During the Cold War era, international relations was characterized by a _____ system dominated by the two ideological divide bipolar

[INR386] The _____ approach deals with the chronological account of events for the point of view of international politics Historical

[INR386] The major actor in international relations is the _____ State

[INR386] Unlike other approaches, the _____ approach aims at the logical coherence and application of data instead of on documents and other raw materials Descriptive

[INR386] The realist-idealist approach as well as the cosmopolitan approach are approaches to the _____ thinking in the study of international relations normative

[INR386] Which of the following is not an actor in international relations?
State forces

[INR386] Which of the following is not an approach to the study of international relations?
Political Approach

[INR386] According to the _____ school, politics can be studied beyond laws and formal institutions but through the process of quantification.
Scientific