

Good and bad

[JIL111] In ancient or primitive societies, the rules of human conduct usually consist of Customs

Customs

[JIL111] All human beings are Equal, Equal, they should be treated as Equal, Equal

Equal, Equal

[JIL111] Every society is governed by a body of rules which the members of the society regard as the Standard for behaviour

Standard

[JIL111] The Norman courts were generally known as _____

Assizes

[JIL111] Jean Jacque Rousseau's celebrated 'Cride Caer' is translated to mean

Man is born free, yet in chains

[JIL111] Humans are by nature Free

Free

[JIL111] Apathy is not a ground of compliance with a rule of law

Apathy

[JIL111] It is only when rules involve the idea of Obligation that they become law

Obligation

[JIL111] Royal Commissioners called the CURIA REGIS performed a number of tasks

Commissioners

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net