

correctness by examination, research or comparison?
Verifiability

[LIS203] Which of the following theory of reference and information service focuses on maximum help?
Liberal theory

[LIS203] Which of the following best describes information that is processed, organised and broadly understood?
Knowledge

[LIS203] An attribute of information that ensures that information must be sufficient in quantity is known as adequacy

[LIS203] Which of the following best describes an activity that is concerned with the handling of information?
Information profession

[LIS203] People that are involved in information activities are called information professionals

[LIS203] Information is used interchangeably with the following, EXCEPT process

[LIS203] Which of the following attribute of information describes information as being clear, unambiguous and succinct?
Conciseness

[LIS203] A quality of reference librarian that enables him/her to remember and have hints about certain questions asked by library users is described as good memory

[LIS203] Which of the following attributes best describes information as being important to the matter at hand?
Relevance

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net