

_____,
China

[PCR822] _____ can be described as the discipline that concerns itself with order in the international environment.
International Law

[PCR822] The _____ theories trace decisions for war and peace to the belief system of key decision makers individual level

[PCR822] War is a state of _____ taking place (inter-state) between different countries, or (intra-state) different groups within a country.
armed conflict

[PCR822] According to Ladan (2007), _____ are becoming the most important sources of law.
treaties

[PCR822] _____ is refers to a set of rules that determine which legal system and jurisdiction to apply to a given dispute.
Conflict of law

[PCR822] municipal law refers to the laws operating within a _____ . state

[PCR822] _____ defines it as the maintenance of an orderly and just society.
peace

[PCR822] _____ argue that International law is not law but a code of rules of moral conduct.
John Austin

[PCR822] _____ originally referred to as the Law of Nations international law