

The edible part of most fruits is the mesocarp

The function of the stomata in a leaf is to regulate the flow of carbon-dioxide, oxygen and water

Obstacles to self-pollination is called dichogamy

Which of these fruits is a capsule?
cotton

The fungus used as food by humans is Agaricus

The primitive form of sexual reproduction in some bacteria is known as _____ genetic recombination

Water is absorbed in plants by the root hairs

A pinnately compound leaf is that which the rachis bears a number of leaflets in alternate manner

Which of the following is a multiple fruit?
Ananas

The stem of some plants serve all but one of these functions commercial

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net