

Immune system

[BIO318] Which of the following is not among the principal components of the immune system

Nerve cells

[BIO318] Hematopoietic stem cells are said to be pluripotent because they give rise to different types of

Blood cell

[BIO318] Which of the blood cells is responsible for defence of the body in humans leucocyte

[BIO318] The two classes of lymphocytes are

B and T lymphocytes

[BIO318] Antibodies produced by the lymphocytes are found in the plasma

[BIO318] Lymphocytes that complete their maturation in the bone marrow are called B lymphocytes

[BIO318] What is the mediator for immediate hypersensitivity

IgE

[BIO318] The myeloid precursor is important in immune response as they give rise to the following except

Microphones

[BIO318] The process of opsonization by which antibodies, enabling ingestion and digestion by phagocytes is called coating of pathogens

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net