1. the distinction between e-commerce and e-business is based on the respective terms commerce and business (ANS)

2. The unique name of an internet website is referred to as a _____
Domain name (ANS)

3. ____ provides the facility whereby files can be downloaded into a computer from another computer in the internet
FTP (ANS)

4. is a collection of internet users who are interested in a particular topic are called newsgroup (ANS)

5. _____ are what are known as stateless servers
none of the options (ANS)

6. The acronym WML represent
Wireless Markup Language (ANS)

7. All of the following are popular methods of e-commerce design except
ASP.net

8. In setting up a website, the first step usually undertaken is registering a domain name (ANS)

9. E-commerce order processing will also utilize any of the following except? Which of the following concepts will be utilized in processing of orders in E-commerce electronic data interchange

10. The server that manages and maintains all transactional and backend data for a commerce website IS called a Transaction Server