

Biological control

[CRP303] The symptom of Blotch is:
a superficial growth giving the fruit an appearance as in sooty

[CRP303] Stage in certain fruit rots in which the dried, shriveled and wrinkled fruit is called a "mummy". This is known as:
Humidification

[CRP303] Death of cells, tissues, or organs has occurred as a result of the parasitic activity is known as:
Necrosis

[CRP303] The first step in the study of any disease is:
development

[CRP303] The most effective method of crop diseases control is:
Chemical control

[CRP303] Inhibition of growth in stunting or dwarfing is:
Atrophy

[CRP303] Symptoms due to some effect on, or change in the host plant include all BUT:
Virus

[CRP303] Crop rotation, proper and timely land tillage, changes in the time of planting, destruction and burning of crops residues are all examples of:
Cultural method

[CRP303] Anthracnose means:
ulcer

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net