

_____ measures how much a given amount of the greenhouse gas is estimated to contribute to global warming over a specific period of time Global warming potential

Dry air is composed of 78.08 percentage of _____ Nitrogen

The primary cause of global warming over the last century is _____ the rise in greenhouse gases

Without the _____, the earth would be approximately 33°C cooler than it is today Greenhouse effect

Explosive volcanic eruptions can inject large quantities of dust and the gas, _____ dioxide, high into the atmosphere sulphur

As the oceans warm, the water itself _____ expands

According to WMO, the build-up of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere alters the _____ balance of the atmosphere radioactive

Controlled environment agriculture, controlled environment plant production system or phytomation system is also known as _____ green house

The greenhouse effect occurs when _____ making contact with the earth's surface is retransmitted to the atmosphere in the form of infrared thermal radiation solar energy

Through the UN efforts with regional organizations and representatives that are skilled in security, the UN is working toward increasing _____ the well being of people throughout the world

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net