

10/10

Question: is a type of research that attempts to solve certain problems arising out of historical context through gathering and examining of relevant data

Answer: historical

Question: Which one of the following is not a type of research.

Answer: ethics

Question: is a type of research which observes existing causal relationships back research and through the data for plausible causal factors

Answer: expost facto

Question: research is to obtain empirical data which can be used to formulate, expand or evaluate a theory.

Answer: analytical

Question: research is directed towards the solution to an immediate, specific and practical problem.

Answer: applied

Question: is a type of qualitative research studies that aim at deriving theory through the use of multiple stages of data collection and interpretation.

Answer: grounded theory

Question: Which one of the following is not a major characteristics of a research.

Answer: subjectivity

Question: is a type of applied research that focuses on finding a solution to a local problem in a local setting.

Answer: correctional

Question: is an enquiry process of understanding a social or human problem, based on building a complex, holistic picture formed with words reporting detailed views of information, and conducted in a natural setting.

Answer: qualitative method

Question: is an inquiry into a social or human problem, based on testing a theory composed of variables measured with numbers or figures and analyzed with statistical procedures in order to determine whether the predictive generalizations of the theory hold true

Answer: quantitative method

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net