

10/10

1. In presenting your research proposal, you should make your research _____ clear and simple.

Plan

2. is the stage whereby observations are made and recorded.

Data collection

3. The first stage in any research process is to identify the research _____

Problem(s)

4. A research _____ allows the sponsor to assess the sincerity of the researcher's purpose, the clarity of his or her research design, the extent of his or her relevant background material, and fitness for undertaking the project.

Proposal

5. As part of their recommendations, many past research projects often make _____ for future research.

Recommendations

6. Given that research in the social sciences is to some extent a social activity whose problems and _____ tend to be affected by the milieu in which it takes place, you as the researcher must be aware of your values and make them as explicit as possible

Appealed policies

7. Note that the more _____ a researcher is, the more important it is to have a wellplanned and adequately documented proposal.

Inexperienced

8. The proposal tells you what, _____, how, where, and to whom the research will be done

Why

9. ALL available data is _____ according objectives, research questions, and hypotheses.

Analyzed

10. To most _____, the most difficult aspect of a research project or dissertation is the choice of a research topic.

Students

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net