

The physical education programme that consists of classroom, teaching and field work is called _____ Instructional programme _____ is an indicator of the health of a school population

Mental health

There are _____ major skills needed in a school health programme.
3

_____ is the physical education programme essential for atypical students with disabilities
Adapted physical education

The quality of a democratic administrator that deals with the ability to be honest sincere and keep promises is known as _____ Integrity

The person that oversee the health services aspects of the school health programme is known as _____ Physical

_____ is an essential public health functions and public health services in school health education programme.
Policy formation

The major administrative duties of a democratic administrator can be captured with this mnemonic symbol
POSDCORB

The ability to see the interdependent of various functions of an organization is called _____ Conceptual skill

All the following are benefits of physical activities EXCEPT Learn the language of physical movement