

Poliomyelitis is caused by polio virus

The protein used to build the capsids is called

Protomer

Which word best describes yeasts as a fungi with single nucleus

Unicellular

The first step in the life cycle of a virus is attachment of the virion

Yeasts reproduce sexually through spore formation

Viruses are

Acellular

The time required for a single cell or population of cells to double is called generation time

An example of infection caused by fungi is

Candidiasis

Transport systems that use metabolic energy and membrane carrier protein to concentrate substances by transporting them across a gradient is active transport

An example of infection caused by viruses is measles

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net