

1. Concerning the fibrous pericardium which of the following statement is incorrect

It is a double layered sac

2. The covering of the heart is divided into two parts namely

Serous and Fibrous

3. Pain from the heart is commonly called

Angina

4. Blood supply to the pericardium is from all of the following except

Brachiocephalic trunk

5. The sheath that encloses the heart is called

Pericardium

6. Two sinus are found between the layers of the pericardium

Oblique and transverse

7. During cardiac operations, the aorta can be occluded through the

Transverse sinus

8. The pericardium is connected to back to sternum by

Sternopericardial ligament

9. Nerve supply to the pericardium is mostly from

Phrenic nerve

10. The serous covering of the heart is divided into

Parietal and visceral

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net