

The spinal cord gives rise to how many pair of spinal nerves?

32

In the formation of gall stones, the following is true about pigment stones EXCEPT

They are radiolucent

One of these organs in the body do not produce prostaglandin

Spleen

Which of the following is not a factor that inhibits duodenal gastric emptying?

Degree of alkalinity in the duodenal chyme

The inferior portion of the postcentral gyrus subserves one the following

Pain / tou

The connective tissue enveloping the spinal cord and brain is called

Meninges

The connection of the spinal cord to the brain is at the level of the

Foramen magnum

The frontal lobe is separated from the temporal lobe by the

Lateral sulcus

Hormones are distributed throughout the body by the

Circulatory system

After emulsification of fat occurs, which one of the following is a reaction that occurs?

All of the above

Whatsapp: 08089722160 or click here for TMA assistance

Practice E-exams & Chat with course mates on noungeeks.net